

HIT POTTERS' WAGE BOOSTS

Today

Suppose It Were Hostile.
What Lincoln Said.
Lowden on Hoover.
Samuel Insull's Farms.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review.)

AN amphibian plane, catapulted
from the French liner Ile de France, when 450 miles out, reached New York with mail 15 HOURS BEFORE THE SHIP GOT IN.

That's important as regards mail distribution.

IT'S ten million times more important from the point of view of national danger.

Suppose a foreign ship, or fleet of foreign ships, 450 miles out, should catapult from their decks two or three hundred planes, carrying explosive bombs with poison gases, and send them to New York or to San Francisco or Los Angeles? What effect would they have on the country?
One single plane sent, like the one from the Ile de France, to Washington, D. C., could destroy the White House and the capitol and fly back to the "mother ship." That ought to interest our statesmen.

WHEN bankers from New York told President Lincoln how much money they had at stake and demanded a warship in New York harbor to protect New York's treasure, President Lincoln said to them: "If I had as much money as you say you have,
I'd build a battleship at my own expense."

Inasmuch as this government finds it impossible to wake up, it might pay bankers and property owners of New York and other big cities to think a little about air protection, at their own expense.

GOV. LOWDEN, a real farmer, "is much impressed by Hoover's speech"
and "his frank recognition of the agricultural problem is the most urgent economic problem in our nation today." Gov. Lowden is a real farmer, on a big scale, and has devoted much of his life to studying the farm problem. His approval of Mr. Hoover's speech will mean much to farmers.

SAMUEL INSULL is two kinds of farmer. He raises queer yellow horses, that nobody will buy, north of Chicago. And on his real farm, the power business of the United States, he raises many millions of dollars, extending his farming from ocean to ocean.

He has done a useful thing in establishing a model "electric farm"
to show farmers that they can save money, and reduce "help" by using electrical contraptions, pushing a button or throwing a lever, instead of "breaking" their backs.

Every farmer should have electric power, at little cost, and would have if the people had brains enough to control their own power supplies.

However, since they haven't brains enough, they should be thankful for men like Insull and others that supply brains for a consideration.

THE death of Chang Tso-Lin, dynamited in his railway carriage, is attributed by a British writer, Lenox Simmons, to the Japanese "Black Dragon Society," which interests itself in patriotic Japanese affairs, and is said to have had a hand in the death of the Queen of Korea, in 1895.

In spite of the romantic name and the patriotism, the Japanese will probably dig out the facts.

They don't like any organization exercising powers outside of government, or controlling government, such as are tolerated, sometimes, in other countries.

EIGHTH STREET
HOME ROBBED

Burglars Get $81
From Garfield
Glenn.

Garfield Glenn, 454 West Eighth street, reported to the police last night that his home had been entered during his absence and $81 taken from a trunk.

Patrolman William Lister, who investigated, said the burglars probably used a skeleton key in the front door.
An unsuccessful attempt was also made to enter the home of Joseph Davies, Henry avenue, near the northside standpipe, shortly after midnight.
Davies called police and Patrolman Norman McFarland, who made an investigation, found a window in the house broken.

13 MINERS KILLED IN GAS BLAST

152 OTHER MEN ESCAPE WITH THEIR LIVES AT BLAIN CITY, PA.

Explosion Wrecks
Irvona Coal Company Mine.

RECOVER BODIES

Federal and State Officials Begin Investigation.

COALPORT, Pa., Aug. 16.—
With 13 miners killed in a gas explosion at the No. 3 mine of the Irvona Coal and Coke company at Blain City, near here, late yesterday, federal and state mine bureau officials today examined the blast-torn workings where 152 other men narrowly escaped with their lives.

One Man Comes Out Alive
After a checkup today, company officials said that 155 men had gone down with the day shift. Of this number, most of the men were well on their way out before the blast let go.

George McCao, of Pittsburgh, representing the Federal Mines Bureau and Ira H. Thomas, deputy state inspector of mines, were at the scene of the blast today.
Of the 155 men who were at work
nearly three miles from the mine mouth when the blast let go, only one, Mareno Coccol, 37, escaped the full force of the explosion and came out alive.

Bodies Stripped of Clothing
The fact that the day shift had started out of the workings shortly before the blast probably averted a greater death toll. Most of the men were well started toward the mouth of the mine when they heard the explosion.

Several of them said they thought the dull, re-echoing detonation was the explosion of a generator. A short time later, however, the tell-tale sweeping wave of heat followed, and they fled for their lives.

The bodies of the 13 men were recovered several hours later. All apparently had been struck by the full force of the blast. Many stripped of clothing.

Two Brothers Victims.
The explosion took the lives of two brothers, James and Ray Hunt, of Irvona, and those of a father and son,
Tony and Ed Abaranovich, of Coal-port.

As nearly as could be determined early today, the 14 men were just finishing work preparatory to the long trip back to daylight when the blast let go. Cursory examination of the mine failed to determine the cause, but conditions of the bodies indicated that none lived long after the explosion.

The first of the rescue crews to reach the mine reported that a spark of life remained in one of them, but this was short-lived.

By a queer twist of fate, had the men left their workings at exactly the time they were due to start for the mine mouth, there is a possibility they would have escaped death. Coccol, the only one of the group at the scene of the blast, was the first to quit work, and he had started well on his way down the entryway when the blast let go.

TWO BOYS BURN
TO DEATH IN CASINO FIRE

Flames Trap Lad in Resort Near Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

VICTIMS ASLEEP

Large Wooden Building
at Harvey's Lake Destroyed.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Aug. 16.—
Two boys were burned to death when fire destroyed the casino at Harvey's Lake, a summer resort, near here early today.

The boys, according to reports reaching here, were employed in the bowling alleys and were asleep on the second floor of the building. They were trapped before they were able to flee from the blazing structure.
The identity of the two victims has not been established.

The flames spread through the large wooden structure quickly, cutting off all avenues of escape. The Grotto, an adjoining building, was also damaged. Fire departments from nearby communities responded to calls for aid and after an hour's battle brought the flames under control. Cause of the blaze has not been determined.

GERMAN LINER
BREMEN LAUNCHED

BREMEN, Germany, Aug. 16.—Another great passenger liner was added
today to the North German Lloyd fleet with the launching here of the new steamship Bremen, sister ship of the liner Europa which was launched at Hamburg yesterday.

President von Hindenburg and scores of other notables participated in the christening ceremonies, the double-launching being hailed throughout Germany as a national event of the first importance.

Both the Europa and the Bremen are 938 feet in length, 25 feet longer than any ships now afloat. They will be used in the trans-Atlantic passenger and mail service, completing the Bremen-New York run in six days.
Each will carry 2,200 passengers in addition to the crew.

on Way to Arctic Circle, Safe.

REGINA, Sask., Aug. 16.—With hope rapidly waning that they would even be found alive, the four American college youths who set out in two canoes to reach the Arctic circle, today were reported safe in the wilderness south of Fort Churchill.

Word of their safety was brought back to civilization by Corporal J. J.
Malloy, R. C. M. P., stationed at Pelican Narrows. The news came after four weeks' anxious waiting.
The party is composed of John Fuller, 21, of Keosauqua, Ia.; Max J. Kane, 19, of Iowa City; Gordon Armstrong,

AWAIT CHECKUP

Change Also Reported
in Hunt-Locher Fight.

By C. H. HADDOX.
COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 16.—An investigation of a report that U. S. Senator Cyrus Locher, Cleveland, dry,
may have defeated Attorney Graham Hunt, Cincinnati, liberal candidate, for the short term Democratic nomination for U. S. senator was launched this afternoon by Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown.

An unofficial report was received at the secretary of state's office shortly afternoon that the Cuyahoga county election board had discovered a mistake of 10,000 votes in favor of Locher.

A tabulation of complete unofficial returns at the secretary of state's office this afternoon gave Cooper a lead of 5,338 votes over Begg. This tabulation gave Cooper, 259,783 and Begg 254,395.

Hunt's Lead Out.
Effort was being made by the secretary of state's office to get in touch by telephone with members of the Cuyahoga county election board, five to the reported error in the side check-Hunt count.

Unofficial figures previously announced by the election board at Cleveland credited Hunt with having 26,224 votes in Cuyahoga county. Loch-er's total vote had been placed at 12,989 in his home county.

Alleged discovery today at Cleveland of an error of 10,000 votes reduced Hunt's total in Cuyahoga county to 16,224 votes, it was said.

With more than 500 precincts still out, a tabulation of the unofficial returns, on a statewide basis, reduced Hunt's unofficial lead over Locher to 338 votes, it was reported.

Possibility that the missing precincts will supply Locher with a substantial lead over Hunt was pointed out by election officials.

With complete unofficial figures unavailable this afternoon at the secretary of state's office, the race between John T. Brown, Mechanicburg, and George C. Braden, Warren, for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor for the full term remained in doubt as well as the Hunt-Locher race for the U. S. senatorial toga.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 16.—In view of the apparent close race between Myers Y. Cooper, Cincinnati, and Congressman James T. Begg, Sandusky, for the Republican nomination for governor, Begg supporters have been requested to watch the official count, which is scheduled to start tomorrow
at the offices of the 88 county election boards throughout Ohio, it was learned here today.

Cooper continued to hold the lead by a small margin, in the face of the complete unofficial returns, shortly before noon today.
Hoke Donithen, Marion, who served as Begg's primary campaign manager, requested representatives of Begg to be present while the various county election boards are making the official count, it was announced at Begg headquarters here today.

CARLOAD OF COAL
IS DYANMITED

THENS, O., Aug. 16.—Officers of Athens and Hocking counties today were investigating the alleged dynam-iting of a carload of coal ready for shipment at Dinglehook mine near Orbiston in Hocking county late last night. This mine is operated non-union.

According to officers, several shots were fired into the mine tipples. No one was injured. This was the third disturbance of the week in the vicinity of Orbiston, officials declare, and the first time when any real damage was done.

UNION MINERS
O. K. $5.70 SCALE

NELSONVILLE, O., Aug. 16.—At least six miners, and perhaps more,
will shortly be operating in Hocking valley under the scale approved by the miners' union, leaders of the miners here said today. The scale will be $5.70 it was declared.
The non-union scale now being paid to more than 1,500 miners in the Hocking valley is $5 a day.

Mail Liner On Rocks,
200 Persons Aboard

Ships Speed to Assistance of Steamer Ecuador, Stranded Off Bar-ren Mexican Coast.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—While ships off the lower California coast of Mexico sped today to the assistance of the Panama mail liner Ecuador, on the rocks off Cape San Lazaro, a check by company officials revealed that more than 200 persons are on board the stricken intercoastal vessel.

The Ecuador grounded on the bar-ren Mexican coast at 3:28 a. m. today, according to wireless messages picked up by the Mackay Federal Telegraph company. Latest advices stated the vessel was resting easily and in no immediate danger. Several ships were in the vicinity and one was believed near the Ecuador whose master wire-lessly assistance was needed to get off the rocks.

The passenger offices of the Panama Mail line here said 69 passengers were aboard the vessel when she sailed from here Saturday for New York via the Panama canal and that 36 were picked up at Los Angeles.
The crew numbered 196 on this voyage, it was said.

CONDEMNED MAN
DENIES MURDER

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 16.—Investigation to determine whether Charles (Stanley) Hoppe, 26, condemned slayer of Dorothy Slagowski, 7, was the murderer of Lily Dale Croy, Toledo, a crime which he has confessed and denied at intervals will be made by the state it was learned here today.
Hoppe is now awaiting execution
October 25. He is lodged in death row at the Ohio penitentiary, having been received at the institution yesterday.

The condemned man is said to have again denied his guilt of the Croy murder as he was being taken to Coumbus, after having produced a countain pin which was said to have been the property of Miss Croy, as proof of his guilt following a confession of the crime.

FIND AMUNDSEN
NOTE IN BOTTLE

LONDON, Aug. 16.—The Norwegian consul at Amsterdam is inclined to believe that the message found in a bottle off the Dutch coast at the beginning of the week, bearing the signature of Capt.
Roald Amundsen, is authentic, said a dispatch from The Hague to the Daily Mail today. The message had been sent to Mrs. Amundsen in Norway for comparison with the missing explorer's hand writing.
Capt. Roald Amundsen and five companions have never been heard from since they hopped off at Tromsø, Norway, on June 18 in a French seaplane to give aid to the stranded Nobile explorers.

—The Italian trans-Atlantic flier, Major Carlo Del Prete, died at 5:55 o'clock this morning following an amputation of the right leg late yesterday. Major Del Prete was serious-

PUSH TELEPHONE
RATE INQUIRY

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 16.—H. R.
Allensworth, local rate expert, occupied the witness stand throughout today's hearing of the state utilities commission on its state-wide investigation of the telephone rate situation.

Counsel for the Ohio Bell Telephone company cross-examined Allensworth concerning valuations he placed upon rate-making purposes.

Indications were that Allensworth will continue on the witness stand tomorrow and Friday.

Counsel for the company today was unsuccessful in an apparent effort to weaken Allensworth's position regarding various valuations. Allensworth held fast to his reiterated belief that the commission should restrict its appraisal of certain properties to the actual amount paid for them by the company. The company sought to have the commission uphold its contention that increased values, due to capitalization, should be included in such valuations.

Fruit Crop Larger Than Last Year.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 16.—Ohio fruit crop this year will be slightly above that of last year, according to the August report of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station in a report issued here today. The same report of comparisons holds good over the entire United States, the statement indicated.

HINT RENEWAL OF OLD PACT
AT PARLEY IN
ATLANTIC CITY

Manufacturers Willing to go Along on Present Scale.

NO DECISION

Employers Receding in Collective Bargaining Stand.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug.
16.—The present biennial agreement for the general ware branch of the pottery industry, expiring Oct. 1, will be renewed substantially in its entirety or there is the alternative of a strike.

Manufacturers' Ultimatum.

This ultimatum, it was authoritatively learned today, has been placed before the conference committee of the National Brotherhood of Operative Pottery by the labor board of the United States Pottery association, in session here at the Chalfonts hotel.

The manufacturers minced no words in their declaration. The employers, however, are receding in their earlier determined stand on the proposition to abandon collective bargaining and deal individually with their own workers.

The conference battled for seven hours on the matter of collective bargaining. The workers were adamant in their refusal to accept any individual arrangements, while the manufacturers persisted in their arguments for it. While there has been no definite decision so far, it is learned that the conference will not split over this controversy.

No Wage Increases.
The manufacturers refuse to grant
any wage increases and if the workers insist, the conference will break.
Conservative members of the brother-hood's committee are making every effort to avert a breach.

"We are willing to go along on the old scale," a prominent member of the labor board declared. "However, it is impossible to grant any wage concessions at this time in face of the tremendous importation of competitive goods from foreign countries where wages are only a fraction of what they are here."

the First Church of Christ, was called the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson shortly before he came to East Liverpool this spring.

From Lima the Rev. Mr. Baker will go to Winona Lake, Ind., where he will attend a two weeks' course of Bible lectures. He plans to return to his home here the latter part of the month.

VOTE BOARD
HURRIES COUNT

Columbiana Canvass
Will be Completed
Today.

The Columbiana county board of deputy state supervisors of elections will probably complete the official tabulation of the vote cast in Tuesday's primary election late this afternoon, Chief Deputy James S. Hilbert announced from the Lisbon office at noon. About 30 of the county's 105 polling precincts remained uncounted when the board recessed for lunch.

A few mistakes, caused by the transposition of figures, have been discovered.
The official report will be forwarded to Columbus as soon as the count has been completed. The semi-official count yesterday gave Myers Y. Cooper, Cincinnati, a plurality of 230 votes over James T. Begg, Sandusky, for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

You owe it to yourself to try S.S.S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished.

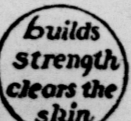

Red blood cells are Nature's way for building and sustaining the body.

How Much, Mr. Candidate?

As the public awaits the official count which probably will make few changes in the unofficial tabulation of the votes cast in Tuesday's state, district and county primaries, Republican and Democratic candidates today began to check up the cost of the campaign.

Under the Ohio corrupt practices act, all persons who seek public office must file within ten days after the election, or not later than August 24, a sworn statement of all receipts and disbursements in their canvass. This must include contributions, together with a report of the source, as well as an itemized account of money expended.

The law applies to the unsuccessful candidate as well as the winner. Failure of a nominee to comply with the requirements means the loss of his certificate of election as well as prosecution. The law also provides for court action against a candidate irrespective of the result of his campaign.

A hint to the wise should be sufficient.

Olympiad Winner

Athletes representing the United States won the 1928 Olympiad at Amsterdam, 173 points to 103 for Finland, their nearest competitor. This is the ninth successive American victory.

Considering the relative size of the United States and Finland, and 103 points for Finland against 173 points for America, the Finns made a creditable showing. And the American margin of victory, although high enough to be satisfactory, is smaller than at previous Olympiads.

The reason for this is apparent. Foreign athletic associations now are emulating their American competitors in employing professional trainers for their amateurs, thus, in a way making something of a business of amateur sport.

While such a policy generally gets results, so far as points amassed are concerned, there is some doubt as to its service in promotion of friendly relations among the participating nations, which is, after all, one of the main purposes of the Olympic games. Large-scale introduction of money into amateur sport with tendencies to win at the most of sportsmanship, if necessary, will not make for good feeling among the contestants or the people they represent.

Boers Marching Again

There is another trek under way in Africa.

The Boers are marching again—1,800 men, women and children are under way with 340 wagons, 1,500 oxen and other domestic cattle.

This time the Boers trek south. Usually they have moved north and west, from Cape Town north to Transvaal, from Transvaal to Rhodesia, from Rhodesia to Angola. But now their covered wagons will creep behind the slow-moving oxen plodding south from Angola.

Boer families have packed their goods and are ready to travel from 800 to 1,500 miles to new homes in southwest Africa. In this territory, which has been taken over from Germany by the Union of South Africa as a mandate, 1,600 acres have been set aside for each Boer family that will move from the Portuguese colony.

Southwest Africa is the site of the solar radiation station maintained by the National Geographic Society in co-operation with the Smithsonian Institute. Because South Africa's weather is nearly all one kind and that sunny and clear, Mt. Brakkaras, a lonely pinnacle rising out of the Faith river valley, was selected as a solar observation point.

Larger Golf Ball

Officials of the Royal and Ancient club of St. Andrews will recommend to the United States Golf association a slightly larger and lighter golf ball for regulation play. The United States association has recommended such a ball to the Royal and Ancient on at least two separate occasions.

The point behind the recommendation is that the increase in the flight of a golf ball through the last two decades has necessitated constant remarking of golf courses. The course had to be stretched to fit the ball. It was a rather expensive process.

A large and lighter ball means a revision downward in the matter of carry and roll, and a consequent saving in real estate. If such a ball were adopted it would be quite possible to play a course today, play it tomorrow and play it again in a year, and still recognize it. It would be reform without the bane of all golf courses—reconstruction. It would, too, bring the duffer considerably closer to the star.

The duffer, however, will view this last point with jaundiced eye. He wants to "drive a mile," and finds it difficult enough now to get the ball into the hole. From the duffer's point of view relief can come from only one course—increased size of the hole—a mere foot or so.

Gain In Bank Deposits

To use the language of the state superintendent of banking, "extraordinary gains" are shown in the combined resources and deposits of the state-supervised banks. And when a man who has anything whatever to do with banks or banking, goes so far as to report "extraordinary gains," one may rest assured that the situation is precisely as pictured.

But the extraordinary gains in deposits and resources which the state superintendent's report indicates, bespeak only one thing—a prosperous condition of the state as a whole, and an exceptionally prosperous condition of the several localities where there are state-supervised banking institutions. Were it not for prosperity there would be no increase in bank deposits.

Ohio's position as the fifth largest banking state in the United States is materially strengthened by the condition of the banks at the current writing. Yet there are some pessimists who cannot see that normalcy is here.

The growth of savings accounts in the banks of Ohio indicates a higher level of living as well as an economic condition which is wholesome.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin
By Frederic J. Haskin.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 16.—Another service has been contrived for the much abused middleman, in this case the person who stands between the rich and the poor, between seven-dollar-a-day skillful nursing and no care at all. Trained nurse service at cost and by the visit is now available to those of average means who, in the past, have quailed at the prospect of introducing that necessary luxury of starched efficiency, the graduate nurse, into their homes.

It is no longer necessary to dispense with practiced ministrations just because a full-time nurse is not needed and therefore can not be afforded for necessary skilled attention. A doctor is not retained by the day, and now it is possible to summon nurses for professional calls.

Although the instructive visiting nurse society of Washington was originally and still is a charitable organization, it plays another leading part in the community life of the city. Starting twenty-eight years ago, almost in the era when a nurse was a "ministering angel," its managerial board's problems were complicated by the upkeep of the bicycle the one nurse rode. A main office, three branches in far apart communities, six cars, a director and educational director, five supervisors, and forty-one nurses are devoted to the work now classed under public health.

The visiting nurse will answer any first call made into the office and will continue to come as long as needed if the patient is under the care of a private or city doctor or one on a hospital staff. She will be a graduate registered nurse who has met the requirements of the national organization for public health nursing. Not only is it her duty to meet the conditions at hand, but she must also be a factor in education. Part of her title is instructive which means that as well as alleviating ills, she spreads the public health doctrine of preventing them.

There are certain fees for the services of the visiting nurse, all based on actual cost. A visit to one patient costs $1.02, to mother and baby $1.53. Twins raise the price to $2.04.

As it has been pointed out the visiting nurse is a part-time nurse in attendance only. Her training is just as thorough as that of the nurse who finds her field to be in the hospital or with private patients. Because there is a waiting list of those who wish these positions it is possible to select only those who have graduated from fine hospitals and who have had high school education or equivalent.

A certain kind of ability is necessary in this line of work, and for that reason every nurse on the staff is put through a probationary period of three months. Some women are excellent in the operating room and some are splendid in their understanding care of the sick, but all do not possess a necessary love for humanity and a knack of educating while helping.

These qualities are requisites because the I. V. N. S. is primarily a service for the people. Whereas, the full-pay patients can by it obtain efficient nursing care, so can those who can not pay in full or those who can not pay at all receive the same attentions. Also, an average of more than nine visits a day brings the nurse in contact with every kind of human nature and demands that she be a woman who can understand and meet the needs of each.

Gertrude Bowling, director of the I. V. N. S. says that her nurses find their problems in choosing during the time when they are overburdened between attending the old woman crippled with rheumatism who can not feed herself and the patient who is at the crisis of pneumonia. It is tragedy to them to slight some convalescent who needs that last dose of visits not only for physical rehabilitation, but for the impetus to make them take their places in the world.

The part-time nursing service is peculiarly adapted to the needs of Washington where there is a large population with high living standards and low salaries. The many finely educated men and women who work in the government eagerly avail themselves of the service when they learn of it. Many wealthy people use it when they require only certain brief attention.

All the nurses wear blue uniforms and the caps bearing the I. V. N. S. insignia. On the 100,000 visits paid to 12,000 patients last year there was not one beneficiary who felt that he had been made an object of charity before his neighbors. Both paying and free patients received the same attention.

Questions And Answers

Q. When was the lighting of streets inaugurated? A. M. O. C.

A. Some form of artificial light must have been in use for domestic purposes from the very earliest times, but though large cities and a high state of civilization existed among the Egyptians, Greeks, and Romans, the systematic lighting of streets was unknown to them. From the writings of Libanius, however, who lived in the beginning of the 4th century after Christ, we may conclude that the streets of his native city, Antioch, were lighted by lamps, and Edessa, in Syria, was similarly illuminated about A. D. 500. Of modern cities Paris was the first to light its streets. In the beginning of the 16th century it was much infested with robbers and incendiaries, so that the inhabitants were ordered, in 1524, to keep lights burning after nine in the evening, before all houses fronting a street.

Q. Does most of the heat of the sun reach the earth directly? M. M.

A. The Smithsonian Institution says that the earth does derive its heat largely from the sun directly. On a clear day at sea level, with the sun in the zenith, about 75 per cent of the solar rays are transmitted directly to the earth through the atmosphere. Of the remainder, part is scattered and reaches the earth in the form of sky light, part is selectively absorbed, in the main by water vapor, and part is reflected back to space. Four constituents of the atmosphere, are very largely responsible for the losses which the sun's rays suffer in reaching the earth. These constituents are water (both as water vapor and in the form of clouds, dust, ozone, and carbon-dioxide. If the amount of these four constituents remains unchanged, the density of the atmosphere may vary through a wide range without appreciable effect on terrestrial climate.

Q. How are draftsmen chosen for Navy Yards? H. J. L.

A. The positions of draftsmen in United States Navy Yards are filled by civilians who are chosen through Civil Service examinations.

Silences Loud Speakers.

Mayor Price of Newton Falls has done something in regard to the loud speaker, the radio machines which are operated by householders and which proceed to fill the air with noises and voices until the later hours. Newton Falls is the home of many steelworkers, and the mayor has decided that they are entitled to their rest when they turn from labor to refreshment. Any radio outfit blowing away outdoors after the hour of 9:30 will be proclaimed a public nuisance and subject to seizure.

There may be no Ohio law on this subject, but it has the warrant of common sense. If the Newton Falls executive gets away with his regulation there are other cities, like oppressed, which should emulate the example. And while they are at it they might begin to rid the land of the makers of all other forms of useless noises. These exist aplenty.—Akron Beacon Journal.

Everybody seems to think it is going to be harder for the country to make a mistake in the election, this time than usual.—Lorain Times Herald.

She doesn't want to be partial, so she has one of each, although she knows that one of them will be very passé after next November. NEW YORK Day By Day

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—New Yorkers have never learned to love Central park as the Frenchman loves the Bois de Boulogne, but the popularity of this great gathering space so close to the heart of the city is growing. Every summer the list of "regulars" in the park increases.

One sees the same faces day after day strolling around the gravel path of the reservoir. And also the same figures flashing by on the bridge path. Central park to many is becoming a fixed habit. At sunset may be seen a number of the illustrious from Millonaires' Row enjoying a morning constitutional.

The Mall is crowded on pleasant days with children, in charge of nurses, rolling hoops and riding in goat carts. Ponderous motor cars stop at either Mall entrance and fashionably clad men and women alight for a promenade that suggests the Champs Elysees.

There are myriad diversions for the Central park visitor that offer a sudden relief from the City's jangle. Geese and graceful swans disport in the southeastern lake. The zoo, while small and intimate, offers a careful selection of birds and wild beasts.

On the middle big lake are motor-boats and skiffs for hire. Also flying casting platforms. On a nearby meadow in the croquet grounds, where white whiskered old men totter around with their mallets and umbrellas overhead to ward off the sun.

There are various other expensive stretches of greenward where baseball and other outdoor games are permitted. There is the Shakespeare garden abloom with patches of rare flowers. The old block house, McGowan's Pass Tavern, the Casino restaurant, and the art museum.

There are cliff walks with natural stone steps, quaint bridges spanning placid little streams, wisteria bowers with long comfortable benches, and innumerable other nooks and crannies. To say nothing of the Egyptian obelisk, which glinted by moonlight, is one of the most netrancing sights in the city.

Among the finest physical specimens of the New York race.

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention Is Worth A Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland.

In the late summer and early fall we are apt to run across the dangerous snakes. When the water dries up in the hills and mountains, the snakes come down into the low-lands. They are seeking water and food.

Comparatively few persons are bitten by snakes. Very few persons are bitten, probably because we hate snakes and avoid their haunts. So inborn is the dread of serpents that we look askance upon the occasional individual who says he likes them.

Fatal effects from snake bites in North America are extremely rare. Tropical snakes are larger and have larger poison glands. When such snakes bite, they inject into the victim larger doses of the venom. On this account, their attacks are more to be dreaded.

The immediate local effect of a snake bite is trifling. The danger comes from the effects of the poison upon the heart and nervous system. The purpose of any treatment which may be applied is to prevent the poison from getting into the general blood supply. When this takes place the poison is carried to every part of the body.

If the hand or foot has been wounded, a ligature of some sort should be tightly tied about the limb, above the wound or between the wound and the heart. For this purpose you may use a torn strip of handkerchief or shirt, a string, shoe lace, neck tie, piece of rope, a wire, piece of grape vine, a flexible switch, or strip of tough bark. Whatever is used it should be tied firmly. After this a stick should be inserted under the ligature and tightly twisted.

The wound should be sucked out and washed with soap and water if they are available. No harm will come from sucking if the mouth is healthy and without broken tissues.

Perniculate of potash crystals, if they can be had should be rubbed into the wound. The patient should be kept warm and given small quantities of coffee until the doctor arrives.

There are various serums which may be injected, but these should be used by the doctor. They may be had on telegraphic request from the New York Zoological Garden or possibly from your local board of health.

If you should happen to be bitten by a snake, don't fret yourself into a fever of fear. In our country, at least in the northern and eastern portions, snake bite is almost never fatal. The chances are you will have little trouble.

men of the New York police force are the mounted patrolmen in Central park. Expert horsemen, they have dashed gallantly to rescue and sweep hysterical ladies into their protecting arms from fractious horses. And romance has kindled by their gallantry. Two mounted park policemen have married rich heiresses.

Old women who stand at park entrances with toy red balloons tugging in the breeze are not so poverty stricken as they appear. They sell fief of their balloons, but the odd change dropped in their hands by passersby is considerable. One is said to own an apartment house in the Bronx, bought with gratuities. Still, all beggars are reputed to own apartment houses.

There is a wooded strip in the park dotted with comfortable benches known as Lover's Lane. It is a romantic rendezvous for sailors and their girls and an understanding policeman who patrols the idyllic lane walks along the paths gazing at the heavens. He never so much as glances at occupied benches, bless his heart.

A gentleman who flew to New York from Texas this week brought along a pet white rabbit. In crossing the lobby of a Fifth Avenue hotel the rabbit leaped from his arms and went hopping down a long hallway.

"We don't permit rabbits here," said an imperious frock-coated floor manager with a gorgeous flower in his lapel.

"Yeah," drawled the Texan. "Well, you catch it. I've always wanted to see a gentleman in a frock coat hunting rabbits on Fifth Avenue anyway."

"We don't suppose," reads one of those impassioned get-rich-quick letters, "that anything would tempt you to sacrifice a little time from your profession, even if it makes you independently rich. We wrote you before without answer and see now that not even quick wealth will budge you from what we consider foolish loyalty."

"EVERY PNEUMATIC TIRE OF OUR MANUFACTURE BEARING OUR NAME AND SERIAL NUMBER IS WARRANTED BY US AGAINST DEFECTS IN MATERIAL AND WORKMANSHIP DURING THE LIFE OF THE TIRE TO THE EXTENT THAT IF ANY TIRE FAILS BECAUSE OF SUCH DEFECT, WE WILL EITHER REPAIR THE TIRE OR MAKE A REASONABLE ALLOWANCE ON THE PURCHASE OF A NEW TIRE."

The manufacturers listed below, who produce over 95% of the tires made in America, guarantee tires bearing their names and serial numbers against defects for the entire life of the tires

Franklin C. Cushman
Director General, THE RUBBER INSTITUTE, Inc.

Those familiar with tire history will remember the early experimental days when the only way a manufacturer could express his confidence in his product was by offering a definite mileage guarantee.

They will recall how, due to misuse, the definite figure inevitably was pushed beyond all sensible bounds.

As tires improved in quality the whole theory and practice of "definite mileage" commitments was pushed into the background and finally rejected by standard tire companies as unfair and uneconomical to the tire-user.

It had proved itself to be fundamentally unsound.

Its abuse by unscrupulous drivers confronted the manufacturer with the alternatives of higher prices or lower quality to meet the added costs of unjustified allowances.

Perhaps its most unfair feature was that it benefited the driver who misused his tires and misrepresented his mileage at the cost of the honest and careful driver who did not abuse his tires.

Its passing was welcomed by trade and public alike because it had come to be used as an unfair sales inducement rather than as a protection for the buyer.

The industry then shifted from the costly advertising of mileage claims to the building of real mileage into the tires.

As a result, tire values have steadily improved, to the benefit of all users alike, although prices are today the lowest in history.

The prevailing practice of these manufacturers, who produce over 95% of the tires in the United States, is expressed by the broadest standard tire guarantee in the history of the industry.

The members of the Rubber Institute, Inc., listed below, warrant tires bearing their names and serial numbers to be free from all defects of material or workmanship.

This warranty is unlimited as to time or mileage, the manufacturer's responsibility continuing throughout the entire life of the tire.

In case of the failure of the tire due to defect, no matter how far or how long that tire has traveled, fair and equitable adjustment will be made by the manufacturer on the basis of the tire's normal expectancy of service had the defect not appeared.

It is the intent and purpose of this warranty to assure the buyer a quality product capable of satisfactory performance, the responsibility for which the manufacturer of the tire hereby assumes.

—a guarantee broader in its protection to the individual, yet fairer in its operation to all, than anything now or ever placed before the public.

What Will you do

When your Children Cry for It

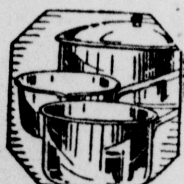

There is hardly a household that hasn't heard of Castoria! At least five million homes are never without it. If there are children in your family, there's almost daily need of its comfort. And any night may find you very thankful there's a bottle in the house. Just a few drops, and the colic or constipation is relieved; or diarrhea checked. A vegetable product; a baby remedy meant for young folks. Castoria is about the only thing you ever heard doctors advise giving to infants. Stronger medicines are dangerous to a tiny baby, however harmless they may be to grown ups. Good old Castoria! Remember the name, and remember to buy it. It may spare you a sleepless, anxious night. It is always ready, always safe to use; in emergencies, or for everyday ailments. Any hour of the day or night that Baby becomes fretful, or restless, Castoria was never more popular with mothers than it is today. Every drug-gist has it.

West Virginia G.O.P. Names Eight Electors

Two Candidates for State Supreme Court Places
Are Endorsed and Party's Kansas City Platform is Approved.

West Virginia Republicans met in state convention yesterday at Fairmont and named two candidates for the state supreme court of appeals bench, eight presidential electors, heard Governor Gore's keynote address and adopted a platform endorsing the party declaration in the national convention at Kansas City.

Judge Raymond Maxwell was chosen without opposition for the supreme court bench to succeed the late Judge William Miller, while Judge John H. Hatcher was unanimously nominated to succeed himself.

The platform endorsed the administration of Governor Gore, urged modification of the state inheritance tax law, changes in the primary election system and approved the economy of the Republican national administration with the resultant tax and national debt reduction.

Economy is Urged.

Other planks favored continued economy in state government; freedom of wage contracts and the right of collective bargaining; expressed the belief that the injunction in labor disputes had in some instances been abused; commended the workmen's compensation laws; endorsed the entire state Republican ticket; pledged relief for disabled war veterans and their dependents; protection of privilege and advantages for the colored race; fair and just settlement of foreign debts, protective tariff; strict law enforcement as outlined in the Kansas City platform; endorsement of the Coolidge administration; recommending that the $35,000,000 road bond issue be ratified; liberal encouragement for development of water power consistent with the interest of our people and safeguarding the interest of the people of West Virginia; further development of the public school system; endorsing prohibition as an economic, financial and moral success, and holding that no backward step must be taken in its enforcement; and recommending that the legislature take steps to have every state department "rigidly account" for every dollar expended.

Democrats Meet at Clarksburg.
Democrats of the state assembled at the same time at Clarksburg with United States Senator Martin M. Neely presiding and delivering the keynote talk.

Joseph N. Kenna of Charleston and Andrew Price of Marlinton were nominated as candidates for the supreme court bench. James M. Mason Jr., was named for the unexpired term of the late Judge W. N. Miller.

Sharp debate featured the adoption of the platform with the result that endorsement of the $35,000,000 road bond issue was stricken from the platform the section relating to prohibition enforcement was amended and efforts to amend the section relating to primary elections were defeated. An effort to insert a clause condemning specifically the gross sales tax also was defeated.

Support National Nominees.
The good roads section as amended favored a proper system of roads, urged an economic administration of road affairs and distribution of license plates from points convenient to all automobile owners.

A move by Senator D. E. French of Bluefield to eliminate the section relating to law enforcement was defeated, but the wording was amended to omit specific condemnation of the Republican state and national governments in enforcement. French declared that the original text would "further alienate certain elements in the state," while Sale held that "prohibitionists would vote against Smith anyway."

The law enforcement plank was amended to read: "We declare in favor of an honest and vigorous enforcement of all our laws, including the prohibition law, but we condemn the pretense of enforcement, the unlawful and unwarranted searches and seizures that have been under the cloak of law enforcement and the killing of innocent people by enforcement agents. Such a manner of enforcement makes not only this law unpopular, but has a tendency to make disrespect for all laws. We pledge the Democratic candidates to enforce the prohibition law, but to enforce it lawfully, not unlawfully."

Before adjourning both conventions adopted resolutions pledging their support to the national nominees of their respective parties.

HOOVER WAGES CAMPAIGN FOR "SILENT VOTE"

Republican Nominee Will Start East Tonight.

ASKS WOMAN AID

Secretary Hopes to Win Independents to His Cause.

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON. STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., Aug. 16.—Convinced that he can be elected to the presidency only by winning the independents to his cause, Herbert Hoover will start east tonight to wage a campaign for the so-called "silent vote" of the country.

The Republican nominee will strive to capture the support of women's organizations, the organized forces of social reform and the business element, which frequently ignores elections. He will seek to arouse the interest of that large class of Americans, who take their politics lightly and who go to the ballot box but seldom. If he can get them to the polls and persuade them to vote Republican, Hoover feels assured of the election.

Plea to Women.
The Republican candidate indicated the strategy of his campaign in his acceptance speech, when he devoted large portions of his address to the subjects of social reform and child welfare. He made a special plea, in fact, to the women of the country, urging them to take an interest in politics generally and in the presidential election especially. After declaring the problems of America were "moral and spiritual" to a "much greater degree" than economic, Hoover added: "The participation of women in politics means a keener realization of the importance of these questions. It means higher political standards."

Hoover has discontinued all reports of his followers that he will win "in a walk." He rather has heeded the advice of those lieutenants who tell him he must wage a hard battle to win the election. Consequently, he has determined to take the campaign seriously and to use all the executive ability, for which he is famous, in conducting his own campaign. Hoover will get back to Washington, prepared to make "three or four" key speeches at strategic points in eastern and border line states.

Plans "Office Campaign."

The Republican organization probably will force him to make a dozen all told although he personally would prefer to rest his campaign upon the lesser number of addresses. But regardless of the number of speeches, the nominee will see to it that his organization is "letter-perfect" and that it is making a 100 per cent effort to get out the independent voters.

The nominee at present plans an "office campaign." He will open offices in a private home near his own at 2300 S street, in the fashionable "northwest" residential section of the capital. It has been rumored here that Mrs. Hoover declined to let her home be turned into an office not even for a presidential candidate so Hoover was forced to arrange for offices in a neighbor's home. From this headquarters, he will conduct his campaign, making a small number of trips for his special at strategic points during the heat of the campaign.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—A furious buying wave in American Can, National Cash Register, Packard Motors, International Nickel and other speculative favorites swept prices of these well known stocks to higher levels in the early trading today. Bullish leaders in Wall Street, hammered the bears relentlessly, with the aid of a huge influx of buying demand from the outside speculative points.

Wall Street believes that the growing credit needs of the country in the fall business season would force the Reserve bank authorities to take the steps within their easy reach to increase the credit supply and ease up on borrowing rates for all classes of loans. Softening of the call loan rate to 5 1/2 per cent this week was a straw showing the direction of the financial winds, and a further reduction is confidently expected before the end of the week. Meanwhile business and industrial reports of the day were uniformly favorable.

American Can's sharp advance through par for the first time in the present form was the feature of the industrial list. This represents a price of more than $600 a share for the stock, which has had a 525 point rise since 1922; higher dividends in cash and possible new melon-cutting in the fall were rumored for the stock today. U. S. Steel and General Motors gained about a point each inactive trading.

SOUTH LOYAL DANIELS TELLS GOV. AL SMITH

Senator George of Georgia Visits Nominee.

DRY STAND TOPIC

Senator Walsh of Montana on Way to Albany.

By Raymond I. Borst. ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 16.—Cheered by news brought to him by former Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, of Raleigh, N. C., that the south would remain Democratic, Governor Al Smith today was to obtain additional information of the political situation south of the Mason-Dixon line from Senator George F. George, of Georgia.

Senator George will be the third Democratic leader from the south with whom the governor has conferred at the executive mansion in as many days. The first was Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia, author of the dry plank in the Democratic platform. He was followed by Daniels, another bone dry advocate.

It was understood that prohibition was the chief topic of conversation between Governor Smith and the southern dry leaders.

Senator Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana, is due here tomorrow to discuss the western political situation with the governor.

Before he went into conference with the governor, Daniels said he did not feel that Smith's stand for modification of the Volstead act, as expressed in the telegram he sent to the Democratic national convention, was a repudiation of the platform.

"At the close of the national convention I said I did not think it necessary for Governor Smith to send such a telegram," said Daniels.

"That was my judgment then and I haven't seen any reason to change it. I do not construe the governor's action as a repudiation of the platform, but we will let it go at that."

Bush Supports Smith.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—August A. Bush, president of Anheuser-Busch, day in support of Governor Smith for Inc. of St. Louis, was on record to president. The announcement came in a statement assailing Ernest H. Cherrington, educational director of the Anti-Saloon league, who charged that a "secret meeting" of the brewers had been called for September 6 in Chicago to further the election of the governor.

70,000 RAIL MEN TO STRIKE IN SEPTEMBER

Trainmen and Conductors in West Will Walk Out.

80 ROADS HIT

Strike Threatened as Wage Increase is Refused.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 16.—Seventy thousand employees of western railroads will probably go on strike some time next month.

A joint strike of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors is inevitable in the western states. It was indicated today by telegrams received here by A. F. Whitney, president of the trainmen.

The strike impends as a result of the refusal by the railroads to grant trainmen, yardmen and conductors pay increases ranging from 10 to 18 per cent. About 80 roads, controlling 98 per cent of the mileage west of Chicago, are involved.

Reject Conditional Proposal.

At a recent arbitration meeting in Chicago, the railroads offered a 7 1/2 per cent wage increase if the unions would consent to the abolishing of certain working rules. While the wage increase was said to have been viewed favorably, the conditional proposal was not, and a committee representing the brotherhoods withdrew from the Chicago meeting and decided to make a strike vote among members of the organizations.

Reports received by Whitney indicate that the vote will support the view of the committee. Reports have come in from Omaha, San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Chicago and other western points.

Whitney read one telegram from an officer of the brotherhood in Kansas City this morning. It stated: "Voters here unanimously endorse action of western chairmen's committee. Have satisfactory big vote." It was signed by D. A. McKinsey.

Tie-up Seems Inevitable.

Unless the roads consent to the demands of the two unions, a strike next month seems inevitable, Whitney said. No action will be taken, however, until after Sept. 2, when the ballots will be officially counted. In the event the vote favors a strike, the date for the walkout will probably be decided immediately afterward, Whitney stated.

Wage increases have already been granted the unions by roads in the east and south, and officials of the organizations charge that the refusal of western roads to take such action is a discrimination against the western unions.

Cooper Leads Begg

Begg stated that he had no intention of seeking a recount nor to contest the result of the G. O. P. gubernatorial contest in the event that final official tabulations disclose the nomination of Cooper.

Explaining that "this election is too close," Begg said he had not sent a congratulatory message to Cooper.

"As soon as the outcome is definitely settled, I'll congratulate Mr. Cooper—if he's the winner—and assure him of my hearty cooperation in the fall campaign," said Begg.

Begg's Statement.

"My friends have been asked to go to the election boards and watch for errors in the count," Begg stated. "If there were any errors in the original tabulations, we're asking them to watch out for such mistakes and to aid in seeing that the corrections are made."

"It's possible, of course, that if errors were made, they may go against me," continued Begg. "But all we want is to see that the count is correct."

"I have no intention of asking for a recount. If there were any irregularities in the election, they will stand, so far as I am concerned. I shall be a sport and abide by the result, whatever the official figures show it to be," Begg declared.

Republican Ticket.

Other unsuccessful candidates for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, on the basis of complete unofficial returns, were credited with having received the following votes: Attorney General Edward C. Turner, Columbus, 90,236; Fred Kohler, Cleveland, 25,115; Harry C. Smith, Cleveland, 16,181; Harry A. Shanley, Forest, 6,840.

For the G. O. P. nomination for lieutenant governor, full term, presented to Ohio voters at the election next November, according to unofficial returns available early today: Republican: For governor: Myers Y. Cooper, Cincinnati.

For lieutenant governor (full term): John T. Brown, Mechanicsburg.

For lieutenant governor (short term): George C. Braden, Warren.

For United States senator (full term): U. S. Senator Simeon D. Fess, Yellow Springs.

For United States senator (unexpired term): Congressman Theodore E. Burton, Cleveland.

For attorney general: Gilbert Bettman, Cincinnati.

For state auditor: Joseph T. Tracy, Columbus.

For state treasurer: Bert B. Buckley, Dayton.

For secretary of state: Clarence J. Brown, Lancaster.

For Ohio supreme court judges: Robert H. Day, Massillon and Frank W. Geiger, Springfield.

Democrat: For governor: Congressman Martin L. Davey, Kent.

KIWANIANS HEAR DR. GEORGE LEWIS

Dr. George E. Lewis, Chester, addressed members of the Kiwanis club at the noon luncheon meeting in the grill room of the Travelers' hotel today. His talk was along medical lines.

Frank Huff, first vice-president, presided. Prof. H. F. Laughlin led the chorus singing. Twenty-five members and their guests attended.

Term: No nomination made.

For United States senator (full term): Charles V. Truax, Bucyrus.

For United States senator (unexpired term): Graham Hunt, Cincinnati.

For attorney general: Francis Poulson, Cleveland Heights.

For state auditor: Daniel E. Butler, Toledo.

For state treasurer: Fred M. Bushnell, Mansfield.

For secretary of state: Carl W. Smith, Kenton.

For Ohio supreme court judges: Dennis F. Dunlavy, Ashland, and Frankis. Mount, Columbus.

Contest Between Begg and Cooper for the Republican gubernatorial nomination constituted one of the closest primary election races in the history of Ohio politics.

Cooper led on early returns primary night. As the returns increased, Begg continued to gain and took the lead yesterday morning. Belated returns during the day, however, consigned to reduced Begg's plurality.

Late yesterday unofficial returns placed Cooper in the lead.

Cooper was the Republican nominee for governor two years ago but was defeated at the November election that year by Governor Vic Donahey. The result was close.

All of the apparent nominees on the Republican state ticket were endorsed by the Ohio Anti-Saloon League with the exception of Gilbert Bettman, Cincinnati, for attorney general. Of the Democratic candidates endorsed by the league, Congressman Martin L. Davey, Kent, Democratic nominee for governor, alone was successful.

Rural Counties Get Credit.

The small dry rural counties throughout Ohio will receive the credit if the complete official tabulation, to be made in a day or two at the secretary of state's office here, shows that Cooper has been nominated.

It was the belated returns from these communities that took the lead away from Begg and placed Cooper in the forefront. Begg carried the large cities with the exception of Columbus, which supported Turner, and Cincinnati and Dayton, which favored Cooper.

Due to the activities of members of the Ohio Anti-Saloon league, who were dissatisfied with the failure of the league to officially endorse Begg's candidacy, Begg received a heavy dry vote in numerous rural counties.

Defeated Candidates.

The Republican and Democratic nominees for places on the Ohio supreme court bench were chosen without opposition. In the Republican primary, Senator Fess, State Treasurer Buckley and Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown had no opposition. In the Democratic primary, Attorney Francis Poulson, Cleveland Heights, nominee for attorney general, was without opposition.

Of the defeated candidates, those endorsed by the Anti-Saloon league include:

John W. Bricker, Columbus, and Clinton D. Boyd, Middletown, candidates for the Republican nomination for attorney general; Commerce Director Earl D. Bloom, Bowling Green, for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination; Lieut. Gov. William G. Pickrel, Dayton, Democrat, for lieutenant governor; U. S. Senator Cyrus Locher, Cleveland; George White, Marietta, and Charles E. Wharton, Kenton, for Democratic nominations for U. S. senator; John Henry Newman, Fletcher, Democrat, for secretary of state, and Attorney Charles E. Hubbell, Cleveland, Democrat, for state auditor.

One Race in Doubt.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 16.—That Myers Y. Cooper, Cincinnati, has been selected as the Republican nominee for governor of Ohio was indicated early today by complete unofficial returns from Tuesday's state-wide primary election.

The contest for the G. O. P. nomination for lieutenant governor, full term, appeared to be in doubt. With 381 precincts missing, State Representative John T. Brown, Mechanicsburg, was leading George C. Braden, Warren, by 595 votes, according to unofficial returns. Braden was nominated for the short term as lieutenant governor.

Officials at Cooper headquarters here stated that, according to reports made to them, Cooper had a lead of 5,568 over Congressman James T. Begg, Sandusky. Complete unofficial returns, it was stated, gave Cooper 259,725 votes, while Begg received 254,157.

Cooper's Statement.

"From information which I regard as reliable, it appears I have been nominated for governor on the Republican ticket," declared Myers Y. Cooper, in a statement issued early today. "It is a source of great gratification to me to know that this expression of confidence on the part of the Republican voters came from so many sections of Ohio," Cooper continued. "Being mindful of the great responsibility which the Republicans have placed upon me, plans will be formulated at once for an aggressive educational campaign."

"The strength of the Republican national ticket and the outstanding character of the other candidates on the Republican state ticket assure Republican victory in Ohio in November."

AKRON BLIMP TO PAY SECOND VISIT TO CITY

T. E. Lewis Rides in Dirigible to Wing-foot Lake.

SIX HOPS HERE

Hundreds Inspect "Puritan" at C. of C. Airport.

Goodyear-Zeppelin Corporation's baby dirigible, "Puritan," which landed at the Chamber of Commerce airport in Madison township yesterday, will return to East Liverpool for a second visit, it was announced today.

J. W. Maxson, publicity representative, made this promise to the Chamber of Commerce.

The bag, which arrived here shortly before 11 o'clock yesterday morning, left on the return trip to Wingfoot Lake, near Akron, at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. T. E. Lewis, of this city, accompanied the blimp to Akron.

Guests Take Flights.

The dirigible made six excursion flights from the aviation field yesterday afternoon, carrying members of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors' aviation committee, newspaper representatives and other guests. It carried three passengers in addition to the pilot on each trip, which required from 20 to 30 minutes. The dirigible attracted hundreds from East Liverpool, Wellsville, Lisbon and other nearby communities, who viewed the craft when it landed at the conclusion of each trip.

In addition to Pilot Jack Boettner, Goodyear aeronautics ace, and T. E. Lewis, the ship carried Vernon Smith, mechanic, and H. W. Maxson, publicity representative, and Edward McCarty, collector of customs at Akron, on the return trip to Wingfoot Lake. The craft today is visiting the Cleveland airport.

Boettner Veteran Pilot.

Boettner is one of the oldest men in the Goodyear aeronautics department, having made more than 1,000 free balloon flights. He was an instructor during the World war at the naval aeronautics school at Wingfoot Lake, and assisted in the training of 200 navy airmen. He was born at Woodsfield and attended high school at Ravenna. He graduated from the Washington & Jefferson college, at Washington, Pa., where he starred in football. He is the holder of the first airship license ever issued by the Department of Commerce.

Two planes from the New Castle Airport corporation's field spent Wednesday in East Liverpool where they engaged in the passenger-carrying business. One of the planes carried John Golden, of this city veteran of the aviation corps during the World war, in an exhibition of trick flying over the Park Boulevard and also over Newell Heights on his last trip out of the airport early last night.

Increase Parking Fee.

Parking charge at the airport has been increased to 25 cents by the Chamber of Commerce committee. The funds which are raised will be used in improving the grounds. Two other planes will visit the field next Sunday to engage in the passenger-carrying trade.

Members of the chamber's committee, which sponsored the visit of the blimp here yesterday, are: C. W. Hendershot, chairman; C. W. Hellyer, Frank Swaney, Michael Turk, Donald Trotter, R. T. Couch, Frank Jones, Edward Kaiser, A. E. Harris, Harry Prescott and R. H. Perry.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 16.—Governor Al Smith was busy today preparing a statement in which he will bitterly assail William Allen White, Kansas editor, for picturing him as always voting to protect the saloon, gambling and vice when he was a member of the state legislature.

DRY CHIEFTAIN DEFIES FOES

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 16.—"I decline to be promoted, demoted, transferred or resign."

John D. Pennington, prohibition administrator for western Pennsylvania and West Virginia today replied to reports that his "promotion" to other fields of activity was being urged by local political forces in Washington. "That report is in my opinion a deliberate attempt to break down the morale of my organization," Pennington said.

"I have denied that report at least once a month ever since I came here two years ago. These constantly recurring rumors of a change in the administrative head of the prohibition forces is a deliberate attempt to break down the morale of my force."

"It would be effective if there were any truth in it, but there is to be no change here."

"There is no movement afoot in Washington to transfer me. I am not to be promoted, transferred nor will I resign."

TANKER PICKS UP FOUR MEN FROM AIRPLANE

One Flier Reported Killed, Radio Message Says.

LASHED BY GALE

Heavy Seas Running as Ship Finds Craft.

KEY WEST, Fla., Aug. 16.—The American tanker Legionnaire picked up four men from the disabled airplane General Machado last night between Key West and Havana in the teeth of a howling gale. According to radio advises received here, but whether all were rescued alive remained in doubt early today.

The four men aboard the plane were Robert H. Fatt, pilot; Angel Alfonso, mechanic; Luther Ritz, radio expert who was trying out a wireless telephone and C. Norman Ageton, of Flushing, N. Y.

According to a radio message relayed from the tanker to the naval radio station here by the coast guard cutter Sauk, all of the plane's personnel were saved. However, a later message, received early today at the coast guard station at St. Petersburg, stated that Ageton had been killed.

The plane took off from Havana at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. When it failed to arrive here an hour later, a sister ship was sent to search for the missing plane. Then at 7 o'clock a wireless message from the General Machado reported that the plane was circling over a tanker but was being buffeted severely by a 45 mile gale which had swept it off its course. Heavy seas were running.

"Whether Senator Locher was nominated to represent the Democratic party in November is a matter of little importance compared with the obvious fraud revealed in the Cuyahoga county returns."

SYNOPSIS: Eddie Morgan and his friend, Gene, buy a barber shop in New York and find it is a blind for a speakeasy. Eddie's girl, Kitty, is working in a night club. The owner, Hawk, annoys Kitty with his attentions. Mollie, Hawk's girl, is jealous of Kitty. A policeman is mysteriously murdered. The only clue is a case of Old Centurion whiskey. Eddie gives Kitty a revolver, telling her to fire it into the air if she becomes afraid of Hawk. Eddie, not suspecting a frame-up, removes several cases of Old Centurion whiskey from Hawk's club. Mollie threatens Hawk because of his attentions to Kitty. Hawk orders his gangsters to "take Eddie for a ride." Discovery of the whiskey in the barber shop and Eddie's disappearance would be enough evidence to convict Eddie of the murder. Kitty hears Hawk tell detectives to go to Eddie's shop at 10 p. m. She warns Eddie. He dumps the whiskey into the East River. Hawk goes to the shop to await the detectives' arrival. He is surprised to find Eddie there.

"YOU TRIED to frame me," says Eddie to Hawk, "and you didn't succeed. The whiskey has been dumped in the river, and when your gangsters came to get rid of me I wasn't here. I know that you made arrangements with the detectives to meet you here. Well, your little game didn't work. And I know why you tried to frame me. I know you killed the policeman."

HAWK is raging and terror-stricken. He draws a revolver. "You're not so smart," he leers. "I'm going to kill you now. I'm going to leave your dead body here in your barber shop, and what's more, I'm going to take your girl. I like Kitty, and you're in my way, and nobody's going to prevent me from getting what I want, least of all a bootlegger like yourself."

HAWK levels the revolver at Eddie. A shot reverberates through the barber-shop. But Eddie does not fall. Instead, Hawk drops his pistol, staggers, and crumples to the floor. Gene and Eddie bend over him. Hawk is breathing his last. "How did it happen?" gasps Gene, terrified. "Who shot him?" "I don't know," answers Eddie. "But what'll we do, Gene? What'll we do?"

"IT'S three minutes of 10!" says Gene. "The detectives will be here any minute! O, my God! It's a murder charge for both of us!" "Well, one thing's certain," answers Eddie, "the detectives mustn't find him. We've got to get rid of the body some way. But what are we going to do? Where can we hide him? Think quick, Gene, for God's sake!" (To Be Continued.)

The competition is among thirty-eight divisions and five shops.

Renovo division, winner of the gold banner in the Central region, had 1.6 casualties per million man-hours, the smallest number on the system for the second quarter. The Toledo division, winner of the silver banner in the Western region scored a reduction of 75.5 per cent in casualties, compared with the corresponding period in 1927, which was the largest decrease on the system. The number of entire system, was 10.7. During the second quarter, as against 11.9 for the first quarter. The most unusual and striking picture of the past five years!

That's the promise from First National Pictures with "The Private Life of Helen of Troy" which opens its engagement of three days at the Ceramic theater today.

Produced on a tremendous scale, but with a motif of satire and comedy rather than spectacular drama, the picturization of John Erskine's best-selling novel of ancient times promises to become the most talked-of picture filmed in many months.

Roberti Given Decision Over Cleveland On Foul In Sixth

Risko Certain Winner Until Low Blow Lands

Gives Away 34 Pounds But Leads Constantly With Long, Swinging Punches; Foe Shows Lack of Aggressiveness.

By Davis J. Walsh.
NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Strange things, these heavyweight eliminations. They never eliminate anybody, even a guy who can't fight. Therefore, it wasn't surprising that this couple of Roberti fellows, otherwise Roberto Roberti, still was in the tournament today. It doesn't matter that he didn't belong in there in the first place. He got in last night and now of course, he stays in. The reason they call them elimination tournaments is that once upon a time, all of the contestants failed to survive. One of them died of old age.

All of which has almost nothing to do with the fact that Robert the Robert won on a foul from Johnny Risko in the sixth round last night. It was a palpable foul, though unintended, and Referee McAvoy had no alternative, but to declare the loser the winner, if you follow my discourse. Roberto was accepting a great slaughter until John went home with that left hook down below.

Risko, of course, remains in the tournament. He was only a technical loser last night; whereas, I have seen actual losers go right back in for the next shot just as though he had maimed somebody frightfully the last time out. Besides, this guy Risko is beginning to grow upon me like a neglected wart.

The last time he bowed himself in around here, he staked George Godfrey to about forty five pounds in weight, with other concessions in proportion, and then "bumped" him out of the play. Some didn't like that decision, but the writer found he could waste no sympathy on a man who allowed a much smaller opponent to even act as though he was winning.

John gave Roberto thirty-four pounds last night and did much the same with him that he had done with Godfrey, to wit, he led to him constantly with long, swinging punches. It didn't make any difference that only some of them landed. Roberto did almost no landing at all, and when you do that, you lose 101 times out of a possible 100.

The boys in the front row thought they noted some improvement in Roberto's technique and the chances are that they were right. The gentleman simply couldn't have stayed as bad as he was before, or else they would have had to throw him away.

He came into the ring with a plaster over his left eye. This was deep stuff. John knocked the thing off, only to discover that the organ was quite undamaged. The punch that ended it simply was one of those things. You aim it one place; it lands another. As is usually the case, the man fouled didn't appear to be hurt as badly as he evidently wished to indicate. However, that is beside the point.

He was hit low and that usually settles the matter. It did last night.

TOO GOOD FOR ROBERTI — BUT LOSES

Johnny Risko.

RISKO-ROBERTI BOUT BY ROUNDS

Roberti missed a left and right and they clinched. Risko landed a left swing to the jaw. Risko hooked a left to the jaw. Risko put another left to the head as the bell rang.

ROUND 2—Risko swung a good left to the nose. Risko had the best of a flurry of infighting. Risko drove Roberti back with lefts to the body. Roberti drew blood with a right to Risko's mouth. Roberti missed a wild swing and Risko chased him to the ropes. Risko was wild with a left. Roberti tapped two light lefts to the face. They clinched. Roberti missed a left and Risko put a light left to the body. They were sparring at the bell.

ROUND 4—A furious exchange of body punches opened the round. Risko's left dropped below Roberti's belt. Risko swung a good left to the ear. Roberti put a left to the head and they clinched. Johnny swung a good straight left to the face. He followed it with a solid left hook to the jaw. Risko rocked Roberti with a left to the head. Roberti was short with a left. ROUND 5—Risko shot a left and right hook to the face. Roberti missed a swing and backed up. Roberti hooked two good rights to the ear. Risko put a left to the body and another to the nose. Roberti missed a right and Johnny landed a right to the body. Risko blocked two rights to the head and they clinched. Risko hooked a left to the jaw. They clinched. Risko whistled a right swing past Roberti's ear. Roberti put a right to the body and Risko a left to the ear. Risko's left found Roberti's jaw and they clinched. Roberti tapped a light left to the nose. Risko sent a left to the body and Roberti a right to the jaw as the bell sounded.

ROUND 6—Risko rushed Roberti to the ropes with lefts and rights. Roberti was short with a left. Risko had the better of an exchange of infighting. Risko put a left to face and they clinched. Roberti landed a straight left to the jaw. There was a furious exchange of infighting in the midst of which Roberti slumped to the floor. The referee helped Roberti to his corner and declared him the winner on a foul, asserting that Risko had hit low in a clinch. One minute and 49 seconds of the round had elapsed when Roberti fell.

Three Are Injured In Turf Spill

Walter Cox Barred After Accident at Randall.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 16.—Three harness racing drivers were in St. Alexis hospital here today following a bad spill in the $11,000 champion steeple chase at North Randall late yesterday. Officials said it was the worst wreck in the last 25 years of harness racing and the worst in history at North Randall.

The collision occurred as the closely packed field thundered into the back stretch. A half-dozen horses were thrown to the ground, sukkies wrecked, and injured drivers either thrown clear or endangered by the hoofs of the rearing, frightened horses, while screams from the crowd of 15,000 in the stands added to the bedlam.

Walter Cox, a veteran circuit driver, was charged with responsibility and barred from racing for one month. Cox was driving Fireglow, greatest two-year-old of the 1927 season and is alleged to have gone into a cluster of sukkies, while attempting to take the lead, upsetting Guy Abbey, one of the horses and Dick McMahon, his driver. Fireglow went on to win, but was disqualified.

Tom Berry suffered a broken right leg. McMahon a broken collar bone, and Alonzo MacDonald a broken right foot, scalp lacerations and sprained shoulder. Several of the horses were knocked breathless and could not rise from the track for some time, but were otherwise uninjured. Marvin Childs, another driver, was unconscious for 20 minutes but was not believed seriously hurt.

AT TORONTO, Ont.—Larry Gains, Toronto Negro heavyweight, won from George Godfrey, Philadelphia Negro, on foul (3).

Stribling Fails to Find Fame In Major Circuit of Pugilism

Has Had His Chance in "Big Time" But Couldn't Make the Most of it.

YOUNG STRIBLING, the young Southern heavyweight scrapper who is constantly making good in the minor league ranks of pugilistic circles but who has never seemed able to click in a big way among the major leaguers, has finally grabbed himself a record.

Recently it was announced that Stribling had scored his 102nd knockout and as his career is rather well filled with fistfuls of engagements he will doubtless build up the string and finish with what might be considered a pretty good yearly average.

Some time ago Young Stribling loomed as a possibility for Tex Rickard's heavyweight elimination contests but it seems that every time the youngster was brought into New York the glare of the calciums blinded him or something happened and he proved a first class flop. He's been given several running starts to fame and fortune in the big city but each time he has turned up his toes or done a nose dive back into the sticks. Undoubtedly with all of his activity he has done well with the bank roll but he hasn't amassed the coin to which he seems entitled but which he has always missed by musing up his chances.

Stribling attracted a lot of attention several years ago when he scored victories over such scrappers as Slattery, Risko and McTigue, but then he appeared to weaken. His failure was attributed to a top-heavy schedule of fighting which was arranged by his father-manager, "Pa" Stribling. It was said that he had been burned up by too much scrapping during his early years but he dazzled back for a spell after that when he scored a one-round K. O. over Marty Burke, a mauler who had held his own with Godfrey, Loughran and many others.

However, the spell wasn't for long and Stribling hasn't been heard of in anything but an indirect way for some time until a small item told of his 102nd K. O. He's fought a lot of battles but he probably never will be heard from as a big shot who rakes in the shekels by the hundreds of thousands.

It is surprising how few of the modern fighters have any long string of knockouts to crow about. Benny Leonard, who has retired can boast of 64. Mike McTigue, who is as well as through, chalked up 58. Ed Burnbrook K. Oed 54 and Tiger Flowers had accounted for 50 via K. O. route before he passed on. Carpenter, Dempsey and Willis are each credited with 43, while Jack Delaney had 42. Tunney is held responsible for 30 and, if mem-

By Les Conklin.
NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Beating the Chicago Cubs on their home grounds is almost as difficult as winning a bout with the missus or a big league umpire. The New York Giants found that out yesterday when the McCarthy job put on a three-run rally in the ninth and pulled a 6 to 5 victory out of the fire. The defeat snapped the Giants' winning streak of five games and put them 3½ games behind the St. Louis Cardinals, who beat Boston.

ory serves correctly, George K. O. Chaney, the Baltimore lightweight of a few years back reached close to the century mark, when it came to putting his opponents out via the groggy route. Another famous old-time knockout was Young Otto, also a lightweight.

An interesting fact in connection with present-day K. O. artists is that Jimmy "Baby Face" McLaughlin, famed for his K. O. wallop, has actually scored only a few knockouts as a professional back buster. These, however, have been registered against some of the best lightweight in the division and include such well-known sock traders as Sid Terris, Poey Sanger, Kid Kapla, Jackie Fields and Phil McGraw.

John L. Sullivan might have hung up a record for K. O.'s if all the knockouts he scored during his tour around the country offering prizes to anyone who could stay four rounds with him had been counted. Many of these, however, were against non-professionals and usually were checked up against the town-bully.

It's too bad that Stribling with his great knockout record can't make good in the major leagues. What a card he'd be if he could bowl over the best like he does the palookas.

Freddy Maguire, ex-Giant, drove in the winning run and Norman McMillan, substitute third baseman, practically ruined the afternoon for Joe Genewich by walloping three hits, including a robust home run.

Sunny Jim Bottomley, the spark plug of the Cardinals, is hitting and the team is winning again. Three hits by James, including his 26th homer, helped Wee Willie Sherdel breeze home to a 7 to 3 win over the Braves. New York and Philadelphia are pulling an Alphonse and Gaston act in the American league. The White Sox bumped off the Yanks again, 8 to 4, but the Athletics dropped another game to Detroit.

Miller Huggins put Dugan and Lazzeri back into the lineup but the Yanks couldn't make much headway against Red Faber, although Dugan hit for the circuit and G. R. Ruth collected his 45th homer. Faber and his battery mate, Crouse, led the attack on Pipiras and Johnson with home runs.

Sam Gibson of the Tigers stopped the A's while his mates combed Jack Quinn for six runs in the last two innings, winning 6 to 3.

Those three grand veterans, Vance, Petty and Harris, led Brooklyn to a 6 to 5 victory over Pittsburgh. Vance ran himself ragged in making three timely hits and Petty saved the game. Harris socked a homer and twice saved the game with a dazzling catch and a rifle throw.

Vance chalked up his sixth straight win and his tenth victory in his last eleven starts.

A seven-run rally in the eighth enabled the Reds to swamp the Phils, 11 to 4.

Although Schulte had a perfect day at bat with four hits, the St. Louis Browns lost to Washington, 4 to 3. Joe Shaute of Cleveland whitewashed Boston, 7 to 0.

GODFREY BEATEN BY LARRY GAINS

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 16.—George Godfrey, long, dark cloud on the heavyweight horizon, isn't so much of a menace today. The giant Philadelphia negro lost to Larry Gains of this city on a foul in the third round of their scheduled ten-round bout here last night, and was being outpointed up to the time when the low blow was struck.

The fight was billed as for the "Negro heavyweight championship of the world."

"Mighty easy to like— Chesterfields"

Mild enough for anybody . . . and yet they Satisfy*

*To blend tobaccos is one thing . . . but to blend and cross-blend tobaccos so as to give both mildness and taste is the Chesterfield way!

Chesterfields satisfy. They have a full, rich, rounded-out taste that makes a merely mild cigarette taste flat by comparison. They're mild . . . and yet . . . they satisfy.

Motors Facing Chance To Even Series With Katies Tomorrow

Potters Holding Edge Now

Slab Selections of Rival Managers are Doubtful.

Feeling as though they have won thirty-three dollars, thirty-three and one-third cents of that one hundred buck side bet, as a result of their 6 to 2 conquest over Turk Nash Tuesday night, McCoy's Katies will try to add that much more to their potential bank roll when the two rivals clash again at Columbian park tomorrow night.

Of course the Motors, in the hole that much because they didn't have as many runs when the six-inning contest ended with darkness gathering, are equally as confident that the story will be different.

If the Katies can grab another game tomorrow night, they will need but one more victory to sew up the series.

In the event that Turk Nash wins, the series will be all even again.

Stoffel may get a chance on the mound for K. T. K. Injured ribs prevented him from hurling Tuesday's game. Manager John Fowler may decide to chuck in Bill Mundy at the Potters.

Robins Out-Hit But They Lick Pirates, 6 to 5

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 16.—Although out-hit, twelve to eleven, the Robins defeated the Pirates, 6 to 5, in the third game of the series here yesterday as Dazzy Vance got credit for his sixth straight triumph. The dazzer gave way to Jess Petty in a Pirate flurry in the eighth, but retired with a lead which remained good.

THOSE FAMOUS SEWELLS

THE Sewell family is doing quite a little toward showing Roger Peckinpaugh a good time during his first year as manager of the Cleveland Indians.

Between Luke, who does a lot of backstopping for the Redskins, and Joey, who is especially active around the short infield, the two Sewell boys are doing everything in their power to make Peck's stay in Cleveland a pleasant one.

And when we murmur that Joey is especially active we mean especially active—just that.

Because when it comes to toiling, Joey is a pretty consistent performer.

In fact Joey has played almost 500 games in a row without asking for a day off or anything and he is out to beat the record of Deacon Scott who shortstopped for a straight run of 1,307 games with the Red Sox and the Yankees—and that's a lot of games to play consecutively on any man's ball club.

Joey hasn't played through every game he has started but he's been working right straight through in most of them and has been at it since 1922.

Sewell will doubtless encounter more difficulty in making the grade than the Deacon because Joey rarely strikes out, is a keen swatter of the apple, and is consequently fairly busy in his rest periods. The Cleveland hits consistently over the 300 mark and makes few errors in the field.

Both of the brothers have had all of their professional baseball experience right in Cleveland. Joey taking over Ray Chapman's spot right in the center of a busy season with only the training he had at the University of Alabama to back him up. That was in 1920, the year the Indians won the American league pennant and came on to whip Brooklyn in the world's series.

A few years later Luke, the catcher, finished with his schooling at Alabama and followed Joey's footsteps, landing a berth at Cleveland where he has been hiding behind a catcher's mask ever since.

While Luke isn't quite as fancy with the mallet as Joey he gets in enough timely raps to make him highly valuable as a regular fixture and he works in the major portion of the games throughout the season.

Luke is a smart backstop and handles himself with lots of pepper back of the players.

In passing it might be interesting to note that the University of Alabama has sent a lot of important baseball material into the big leagues and the scouts of several of the clubs keep a watchful eye on the youngsters there.

But, getting back once more to the ambition of Joey to break Scott's record. It's quite an ambition. No slight indisposition is going to keep Sewell out of any game and his teammates are all pulling for the peppy shortstop to make good for the long string of consecutive games. The Deacon, who is still shortstopping around, doesn't think the Indian will be able to turn the trick. Scott knows that it isn't such a soft assignment.

But Joey feels confident that he will do it. If he plays through the season he will reach the 938 mark. That leaves him only 370 games to go to beat the mark hung up by Scott.

And 370 games is over two more seasons of regular playing.

Considering it in that light it seems a right smart lot of chores to look forward to, but, after all, it's not so bad when he's already been at it steady since his streak started in 1922.

Prepare For Series Contests

Laughlin and Wellsville Pilots Round up Players.

Pilots Dickey of Laughlin and Nicholson of Wellsville today began to round up their players for the opening game of the City Industrial league championship series scheduled Saturday afternoon at Newell. The starting time is 6 o'clock.

The impending series promises to be one of the hardest fought scrimmages in recent years.

While the imported, so-called stars may be absent from the respective lineups of the two clubs, the spirit will be there in the hearts of the players, majority of whom claim residence in the local district, and as a result a battle can be expected in every encounter.

Dickey will have Digman and Curly Evans on the firing line; Nicholson will have Easton and Huffman.

The second game of the series will be played at Wellsville Monday night.

Call Truce In Strike Of Hawthorne Horsemen

Controversy Over One Percent Donation to Association's Fund Interrupts Program; Conference Scheduled.

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—Seven horse races were to be run at Hawthorne race track, following the breaking of the first horsemen's strike in American turf history, which had earlier necessitated calling off this afternoon's program.

The entry box at Hawthorne was opened at 8 o'clock this morning for owners who wished to name horses for today's program, and Charles Bidwell, track secretary, declared there would be a full entry for every race on the card.

The strike, which had threatened to terminate the recent meeting at Hawthorne, was broken at the end of ten hours, when President John C. Schank, of the Chicago Business Men's Racing association, which controls racing at the Cleeve park, threatened the owners that they would be ruled from the turf if they refused to fill today's program.

This demand followed refusal of Camden and Trotter to sign an agreement to donate 1 per cent of each purse won to the association's general fund.

When the Chicago Business Men's Racing association refused to act, President W. E. Caskey of the Thoroughbred association ordered all members, which included every owner at Hawthorne save Camden and Trotter, to refuse to make entries for today's racing.

At the time only two horses had been named for this afternoon's races and the Hawthorne officials were compelled to call off today's program and also hold in abeyance the programs for the eight remaining days of the meeting, pending a settlement of the strike.

At last night's meeting, the owners

"This is Graham McNamee speaking... broadcasting the results of the blindfold cigarette test. They are tying the blindfold around my eyes and are going to give me one each of the four leading brands to choose from... I am now smoking the first cigarette... The taste doesn't appeal to me. Mystery at Styles

A Mystery Serial That Defies Solution

BY AGATHA CHRISTIE

Cynthia nodded rather gloomily. "Yes, John likes me, I think, and of course Evie, for all her gruff ways, wouldn't be unkind to a fly. But Lawrence never speaks to me if he can help it, and Mary can hardly bring herself to be civil to me. She wants Evie to stay on, is begging her to, but she doesn't want me, and—and—I don't know what to do." Suddenly the poor child burst out crying.

I don't know what possessed me. Her beauty, perhaps, as she sat there, with the sunlight glinting down on her head; perhaps the sense of relief at encountering someone who so obviously could have no connection with the tragedy; perhaps honest pity for her youth and loneliness. Anyway, I leant forward, and taking her little hand, I said awkwardly:

"Marry me, Cynthia."

Unwittingly, I had hit upon a sovereign remedy for her tears. She sat up at once, drew her hand away, and said, with some asperity:

"Don't be silly!"

I was a little annoyed.

"I'm not being silly. I am asking you to do me the honour of becoming my wife."

To my intense surprise, Cynthia burst out laughing, and called me a "funny dear."

"It's perfectly sweet of you," she said, "but you know you don't want to!"

"Yes, I do. I've got—"

"Never mind what you've got. You don't really want to—and I don't either."

"Well, of course, that settles it," I said stiffly. "But I don't see anything to laugh at. There's nothing funny about a proposal."

"No, indeed," said Cynthia. "Somebody might accept you next time. Good-bye, you've cheered me up very much."

And, with a final uncontrollable burst of merriment, she vanished through the trees.

Thinking over the interview, it struck me as being profoundly unsatisfactory.

It occurred to me suddenly that I would go down to the village, and look up Bauerstein. Somebody ought to be keeping an eye on the fellow. At the same time, it would be wise to allay any suspicions he might have as to his being suspected. I remembered how Poirot had rolled on my diplomacy. Accordingly, I went to the little house with the "Apartments" card inserted in the window, where I knew he lodged, and tapped on the door.

An old woman came and opened it.

"Good afternoon," I said pleasantly. "Is Dr. Bauerstein in?"

She stared at me.

"Haven't you heard?"

"Heard what?"

"About him?"

"What about him?"

"He's took."

"Took? Dead?"

"No, took by the police."

"By the police?" I gasped. "Do you mean they've arrested him?"

"Yes, that's it, and—"

I waited to hear no more, but tore up the village to find Poirot.

To my extreme annoyance, Poirot was not in, and the old Belgian who answered my knock informed me that he believed he had gone to London.

I was dumfounded. What on earth could Poirot be doing in London? Was it a sudden decision of his part, or had he already made up his mind when he parted from me a few hours earlier?

I retraced my steps to Styles in some annoyance. With Poirot away, I was uncertain how to act. Had he foreseen this arrest? Had he not, in all probability, been the cause of it? Those questions I could not resolve. But in the meantime what was I to do? Should I announce the arrest openly at Styles, or not?

Though I did not acknowledge it to myself, the thought of Mary Canvedish was weighing on me. Would it not be a terrible shock to her? For the moment, I set aside utterly any suspicions of her. She could not be implicated—otherwise I should have heard some hint of it.

Of course, there was no possibility of being able permanently to conceal Dr. Bauerstein's arrest from her. It would be announced in every newspaper on the morrow. Still, I shrank from blurring it out. If only Poirot had been accessible, I could have asked his advice. What possessed him to go posting off to London in this unaccountable way?

In spite of my self, my opinion of his sagacity was immeasurably heightened. I would never have dreamt of suspecting the doctor, had not Poirot put it into my head. Yes, decidedly, the little man was clever.

After some reflecting, I decided to take John into my confidence, and leave him to make the matter public or not, as he thought fit.

He gave vent to a prodigious whistle, as I imparted the news.

"Great Scott! You were right, then. I couldn't believe it at the time."

"No, it is astonishing until you get used to the idea, and see how it makes everything fit in. Now, what are we to do? Of course, it will be generally known tomorrow."

John reflected.

"Never mind," he said at last, "we won't say anything at present. There is no need. As you say, it will be known soon enough."

But to my intense surprise, on getting down early the next morning, and eagerly opening the newspapers, there was not a word about the arrest! There was a column of mere padding about "The Styles Poisoning Case," but nothing further. It was rather inexplicable, but I supposed that, for some reason or other, Japp wished to keep it out of the papers. It worried me just a little, for it suggested the possibility that there might be further arrests to come.

After breakfast, I decided to go down to the village, and see if Poirot had returned yet; but, before I could start, a well known face blocked one of the windows, and the well known voice said:

"Ban jour, mon ami!"

"Poirot," I exclaimed, with relief, and seizing him by both hands, I dragged him into the room. "I was never so glad to see anyone. Listen, I have said nothing to anybody but John. Is that right?"

"My friend," replied Poirot, "I do not know what you are talking about."

"Dr. Bauerstein's arrest, of course," I answered impatiently.

"Is Bauerstein arrested, then?"

"Did you not know it?"

"Not the least in the world." But, pausing a moment, added: "Still it does not surprise me. After all, we are only four miles from the coast."

"The coast?" I asked, puzzled. "What has that got to do with it?"

Poirot shrugged his shoulders.

"Sure, it is obvious!"

"Not to me. No doubt I am very dense, but I can not see what the proximity of the coast has got to do with the murder of Mrs. Inglethorpe."

"Nothing at all, of course," replied Poirot, smiling. "But we were speaking of the arrest of Dr. Bauerstein."

"Well, he is arrested for the murder of Mrs. Inglethorpe."

"What?" cried Poirot, in apparently lively astonishment. "Dr. Bauerstein arrested for the murder of Mrs. Inglethorpe?"

"Yes?"

"Impossible! That would be too good a farce! Who told you that, my friend?"

"Well, no one exactly told me," I confessed. "But he is arrested."

"Oh, yes, very likely. But for espionage, mon ami."

"Espionage?" I gasped.

"Precisely."

"Not for poisoning Mrs. Inglethorpe?"

"Not unless our friend Japp has taken leave of his senses," replied Poirot placidly.

"But—but I thought you thought so too?"

Old Sores and Ulcers Can Be Healed!

"This sincere letter," says Peterson, "gave me another happy day and as nearly every mail brings praise for Peterson's Ointment, is it any wonder that I keep cheerful all the time?"

"Dear Sirs: I had a bad leg for 20 years, tried everything but no benefit. I tried Peterson's Ointment and five 35 cent boxes healed my leg. I can never praise it enough. My leg was so painful at first that I had to put fresh ointment on every two hours, night and day. It stopped the pain at once. Mrs. Mark Richards, Lake Linden, Mich."

Besides running and old sores and ulcers, Peterson's Ointment is just as good for piles, eczema, itching skin, sore feet, prickly heat, sunburn, chafing, cuts, burns, bruises, scalds and scores of other ailments as any drugstore anywhere will tell you. A generous box 35 cents.
